What Will I Be When I Grow Up?

This book belongs to

My name is Lisa and I haven't figured out what I want to be when I grow up.

I keep changing my mind every day. Today, I thought it would be exciting to be a police officer. I'd like to help solve crimes and uphold the law.

My best friend Billy says that if you want to uphold the law – become a lawyer.

And sometimes lawyers become judges who rule on trials.

I might want to be a firefighter and ride on a shiny red fire truck.

I would put out fires and maybe save lives.

But firefighters can also be Emergency Medical Technicians – EMTs.

They help people by doing lots of things that doctors and nurses do in the hospital – right at the scene of the emergency.

It would be great to be a doctor.

I'd love to work in a hospital – to operate on people and treat illnesses. Or to be a nurse and help people – especially when they're sick or scared.

I might want to be a teacher and help kids learn about math and science and history and English.

I love books soooo much,
I could be a librarian.

It would be cool to go to the library every single day!

Or I could be a veterinarian 'cause
I think animals are the BEST!

How great would it be to take care of cats and dogs and birds and horses and, well, everything.

I might become an astronomer 'cause I love to look at the stars and the planets.

I just can't decide what I want to be when I grow up.

There are so many things I'm really, really interested in doing. I guess I'll just have to wait and see!
I don't have to decide today.

A-MAZING!

Help Lisa find her way from the school to the library.
